Wings Over New York – The Evelyn Hotel

Last week I had the honor of working with Triumph Hotels at their wonderful NOMAD based hotel The Evelyn (see Evelyn, the namesake of the hotel above). This stunning restored hotel had fantastic beds, comfy pillows and stellar showers. The only thing better than the rooms at this hotel was the staff. My sister/manager and I have NEVER been treated with such kindness, attention to detail and hospitality. This is a group of people dedicated to continuing to making this space a destination for travelers and New Yorkers alike.

For 4 days I created a huge mural for their lobby. The piece was the New York Skyline complete with swings and wings designed to allow individuals to interact with the piece. I'm so grateful to Triumph for giving me a beautiful space to create on (#bestwallever) and throwing one heck of a good party to unveil the piece.

Check them out folks – I can't say enough about The Evelyn Hotel!
